Imagine holding history in your hands. Now you can. Digitally preserved and previously accessible only through libraries as Early English Books Online, this rare material is now available in single print editions. Thousands of books written between 1475 and 1700 can be delivered to your doorstep in individual volumes of high quality historical reproductions. From the beginning of recorded history we have looked to the heavens for inspiration and guidance. In these early religious documents, sermons, and pamphlets, we see the spiritual impact on the lives of both royalty and the commoner. We also get insights into a clergy that was growing ever more powerful as a political force. This is one of the worlds largest collections of religious works of this type, revealing much about our interpretation of the modern church and spirituality. The below data was compiled from various identification fields in the bibliographic record of this title. This data is provided as an additional tool in helping to insure edition identification: The character of a popish successor, and what England may expect from such a one part the second : or the dispute of the succession moderately discussd upon the considerations of national practice, reason, and the statutes of the realm Character of a papist in masquerade. Character of a popish successor. Phillips, John, 1631-1706. For discussion of the authorship, Cf. Wood, A. a. Athenae Oxonienses. London, 1813-20. v. 4, col. 765 and col. 686. Whereas there is lately published a pamphlet which hath borrowed, without leave, this title, The character of a popish successor . . . Part second : by which the publishers of it would have the world believe it..
